ADMINISTRATION

Mr. George Higginbottom
Principal

Mr. Joseph F. Kolouch
Assistant Principal

Mr. Leslie W. Crowson
Director of Vocational and Technical School

An administrator by definition controls organization. Our administrators have efficiently executed the organization of Belmont High School. Indeed, they have served their organization and have creatively built it.

Mr. George Higginbottom oversees the complex of academic, athletic and extra-curricular activities.

Mr. Joseph Kolouch organizes the mechanics of the operation with efficiency and cooperation.

Mr. Leslie W. Crowson directs the task of teaching young men worthy skills.

Each of these administrators is sincerely working to build a diversified excellent environment to contribute to the present development and future lives of Belmont High School students.

GUIDANCE

Miss Dorothy M. Anderson
Dean of Girls

I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it.

Our class is ready to continue a most important project—shaping its future. Perhaps, though, the most formative period in this process of building for tomorrow is finished. During the high school years a dedicated guidance staff has counseled and bolstered plans and hopes. Many false steps of career planning have been spared. Gratitude for their contribution of time and devotion will increase through the years. Our counselors have done their part, and partly because of their concern, the class of 1965 is now prepared to meet its responsibilities.

Mr. Albert J. Orton
Dean of Boys

Mr. Arthur Morgan
Guidance

SECRETARIES

Mrs. Zarella and Mrs. Currie

Our Belmont High School secretaries deserve much credit for their service. Not only do they type and take dictation; they also serve as an information center, carefully reporting attendance, constantly helping lost students, making appointments for parents, and distributing lost and found items.

In the main office Mrs. Helen Zarella and Mrs. Charlotte Currie aid administrators with the major school business. Mrs. Lella Brodeur is an asset to the counselors in the guidance department. In the vocational office, Mrs. Mary Barkas handles bookkeeping and typing.

Such services of these secretaries contribute to the efficiency of the administration.

LIBRARY

Our library now contains approximately seven thousand volumes of novels, histories, anthologies, encyclopedias, journals, and magazines, providing students with materials for reference and pleasure reading. The new library unit consists of a main reading room, an office, and a storage room for periodicals. Our librarian, Mrs. Garfield, is always willing to assist students in locating information and is constantly working to better research facilities.

FACULTY

The Class of 1965 appreciates the efforts of the faculty of Belmont High School to educate its minds and strengthen its moral characters.

Members of the faculty, whether as an educator, club advisor, class advisor, or coach, were friends to their students. Educators of today accept a large responsibility on entering this profession: they have much to teach and little time in which to accomplish education.

In today's challenging world, the student must be of a high caliber. The fine faculty has trained students to meet and cope with the challenges of the future.

ACADEMICS

A Pause in Creative Writing

ENGLISH

The English course at Belmont High School trains students in two major areas.

Students first sharpen their tools of communication, striving for accuracy. The logic of the course, including grammar, vocabulary, and syntax, increases exactness and proficiency.

Students then directly apply the details of the language expressing thoughts in discussions, essays, and themes. Writing gives practice in applying knowledge. Directed reading of literature from such authors as Chaucer, Shakespeare, Thoreau, and Miller enables the student to absorb and critically analyze great thinking.

With this presentation of both method and substance of correct expression, the English course provides each student with a valuable foundation.

English in Action

Concentration

English research for tomorrow

HISTORY

The Social Studies courses offer a more complete understanding of the world and its peoples through comprehension of government, history, and psychology.

World Geography and Modern World History present knowledge of the history and heritage of world nations, recognizing each in its role. Psychology seeks to understand man through knowledge of his behavior, his habits, his instincts, his powers of reasoning, and his awareness of environment. United States History explains the American heritage, the foundation of our country, its democracy, and principles of justice and equality. Learning to form valid opinions based intelligently on fact, the aim of the Modern Problems course, is a demand of the future for a responsible citizen in local, national, and international affairs.

Oral reports, notebooks, research papers, the final theses, and panel discussions are methods used to stimulate, teach, and inspire the search for understanding and knowledge that may be practically applied to one's self and community.

LANGUAGE

The language department of Belmont High School has developed deeper dimensions. Audio-visual aids, films, tapes, maps, and records are shaping a modern language program which teaches the student to think and converse fluently in the foreign tongue. In a new language laboratory, accomodating thirty-five students, oral practice makes the goal of perfection in fluency, pronunciation, intonation, and comprehension more attainable.

Improved methods of travel and closer foreign relations of the present indicate the future will bring us into frequent contact with other cultures. An understanding of world history, customs, civilizations, and association with foreign cultures is essential. A firm foundation in languages will benefit us in building for tomorrow.

MATHEMATICS

Geometry, trigonometry, algebra, and calculus constitute the cumulative progression of math education.

For every student with ability greater than average, there exists a math course harder than his ability such that every homework assignment less than completed assures that the first test grade will be less than passing. Thus as the student's grade approaches zero, the limit of the teacher's patience becomes undefined.

With grades on math tests like vivid signs, and circle equations to be solved (not easy as pie) it is no wonder one trigs off on tangents.

Official taxing problems raised in the business course account for a blue profit in practical revenue of knowledge.

With each course the competition and intensity in the field of mathematics becomes more acute. Final accomplishments parallel one's power to raise bases of understanding.

ARTS AND SKILLS

Art is perhaps one of the most exciting courses available at Belmont High School. With the incentive which Mrs. Sanderson poses and the philosophy that talent is secondary to interest and imagination, art is a gratifying study.

Art is an infinite exploration of line, shape, and texture. One learns to see beauty everywhere, to see shape and line in every object. One learns to use unlimited media, such as charcoal, water color, pastels, drawing pencils, and pen and ink. One learns balance, proportion, perspective, and technique in commercial, abstract, and fine arts.

Knowledge gained from this course is infinitely useful. Upon leaving room 413, one carries away not only a portfolio of drawings, but also knowledge and love of art.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics course provides a girl with skills which will be useful throughout her life, in careers or in home living.

In the Fashion Design course, girls study characteristics and care of fabrics, suitability of style to figure-type, and methods of careful construction of a garment. Fashion design, a form of art, requires not only patience and skill, but also a knowledge of color and lines, and their optical effect. The ability to sew is both a practical skill and a rewarding form of self-expression. With this training, women find career opportunities in designing and retailing.

The Foods course combines theoretical knowledge of nutritional foods value with practical application in foods preparation. Concentration in this skill could lead to a career as a dietician.

Whether for personal use or for training toward careers, the goal of the Home Economics program at Belmont High School is to combine productivity with creativity.

SCIENCE

"God love a duck"

Eureka

"En Garde"

A new element

Several decades ago a cure for polio, the harnessing of atomic energy, and moon rockets were dreams for the twenty-first century. Probably, impossibilities of today will be made commonplace tomorrow by rising scientists whether in fields of research, technology, or applied science. There is no greater opportunity to build and shape the future than to conquer the challenges of science.

One who has been instructed in any course of science at Belmont High School has been trained for the future. He has not learned only laws and discoveries, he has learned, too, the significance and opportunities of research, preparing for a scientifically complex tomorrow.

BUSINESS

Tomorrow holds excellent job opportunities for the student in the commercial course. The growing business world will provide high-paying positions for many well-trained men and women. There will be a great demand for students now studying to be bookkeepers, clerical workers, typists, and stenographers.

Students majoring in commercial math will meet the demand for accountants, and there are many opportunities for girls interested in becoming legal and medical secretaries, typists and stenographers. The need for capable workers in the commercial field is great, and many companies will depend on the present high school students to fill these openings.

By studying the courses offered, students have increased their accuracy, dependability, and efficiency.

VOCATIONAL

This year the vocational students enjoyed the use of new shops and equipment.

In the Auto Shop, with better equipment than many service stations, Mr. Rogers taught the operations of the automobile. Mr. Seaman taught many skills in the Machine Shop which also has several new machines. Students in Mr. Haroian's Electrical Shop worked diligently on both house and industrial wiring. With the Sheet Metal Shop's modern equipment, Mr. Corrigan taught the students methods of production of a variety of metal fabrications. Mr. Egan's group in the Wood Shop built kitchen cabinets, furniture and other wood products of professional quality.

In all shops, students have been accurately prepared for professional positions.

CLASS ADVISOR AND COUNCIL

CLASS ADVISOR

It does not seem possible that these three years have passed so quickly and yet they have. My mind goes back over all you have accomplished in this time—the struggle to collect dues, the successful Christmas card drive, and the fine Senior Play. Indeed they were three busy and eventful years. You are to be congratulated for your fine record. I am proud of you.

It was apparent from the high quality of class officers that you chose and the manner in which you co-operated with them to achieve your goals that you have learned the true meaning of responsibility. I know that you are now ready to assume the greater responsibilities that will be placed upon you by society. Good luck!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In planning for tomorrow, we of the class of 1965 must establish where we are at the present. The building for a prosperous future depends largely upon the foundation constructed today. We as a class believe we have structured a sound basis for our expanding ambitions.

This firm basis may be attributed to several factors: the instruction and guidance of the faculty, the co-operation and support of the entire student body, and the patient and diligent work of our class advisor, Mr. Robert D. Sullivan. The class of 1965 expresses to each its sincere appreciation, for without any one of them, the class of 1965 could not have realized its full potential. Their co-operation has been the key to our present success and may well prove to be the key to success in the building of tomorrow.

CHARACTER

SCHOLARSHIP

LEADERSHIP

SERVICE

The honor of election to the National Honor Society is determined by the qualities of academic scholarship, leadership, character and service.

Social events included the initiation, the Christmas Alumni reunion, and a June beach party. Many activities, such as the cake sale, the talent show, and the car wash, were aimed at raising funds for the annual scholarship.

Provocative lecturers and alumni seminars presented interesting views and informative ideas to the membership.

MADRIGAL

MADRIGAL—D. Udell, P. Terlemezian, J. Hanley, J. Ananian, M. Fralick, R. Yee, J. Gibson, G. Wilmarth, J. Wyman, R. Miller, R. Gates.

Thirteen vocalists formed the Madrigal singing group. According to the Old English Style, their repertoire included merry tunes and complicated ballads.

MUSIC HONOR STUDENTS

MUSIC HONOR STUDENTS—K. Thomas, D. Lipscomb, L. Knowlton, J. McCrensky.

The Northeastern District Music groups chose, at fall auditions, the most talented musicians of each high school. Dorothy Lipscomb and Jay McCrensky in the District Orchestra, Linda Knowlton and Kenneth Thomas in the District Band, participated in the weekend at rehearsals and the Saturday evening concert, January 30, 1965, at Beverly High School.

ORCHESTRA

The eight members of the String Orchestra conducted by Mr. Amoruso perform at the Christmas and Spring concerts. This orchestra provides an opportunity for string players to study chamber music.

BAND

In new uniforms this year and with excellent spirit, the Band, led by Mr. Amoruso, livened many school events including football games and pep rallies. The fine thirty-eight members performed at many special affairs including the Veterans Day assembly, the Christmas and Spring concerts, and the Memorial Day Parade.

BAND—First Row: J. Sargent, S. Shears, S. Whiteacre, Vice-President; K. Thomas, President; S. LaPierre, Treasurer; A. Alter, L. Knowlton, C. Franchi. Second Row: M. Sheils, M. Fruggiero, R. Ananian, F. Sullivan.

YEARBOOK ADVISORS—Mr. C. Lane, Mrs. G. Sanderson, Mr. J. Kolouch.

Proudly, we present to Belmont High School, the 1965 Blueprint with its theme of "Building for Tomorrow." Having triumphed over deadlines with financial advertisement and sales, photos, personal tabs, academics and activities copy, and difficult layouts, we can now choose to repress all memories of hectic and harrasing meetings, and reflect on the past months only with satisfaction in our achievement.

Naturally biased, we feel that this Yearbook is no less than a masterpiece of photographic, art, and literary endeavors. Hoping the 1965 Blueprint has accurately and meaningfully captured the many poses and attitudes of our school life and will be appreciated now and in the future. . .

LATIN CLUB

Summa

The purpose of Summa, to promote the classics, is achieved through the imitation of Roman public gatherings. Officers retain ancient names, and business meetings are conducted in Latin. Through Summa's programs and the Massachusetts Junior Classical League Spring Convention, members enrich their knowledge of ancient culture.

Summa's most significant project is the support, through the sale of Belmont High School book-covers, of Maria Rita Romeo, an Italian foster child of the Save the Children Federation.

LATIN CLUB—First Row: S. Fredd, Augur; K. Rowe, Quaestor; J. Colella, Aedile; H. Falkson, Censor; R. Lavine, Sr. Consul; S. Ford, Pontifex Maximus; P. McDonald, Jr. Consul; D. Howard, Censor; J. Wolfe, Aedile; M. Tryon, Quaestor. Second Row: Miss Steurewald, S. Smart, Aedile; G. Egan, Aedile; R. Wagner, Vestal; S. Shears, Vestal; C. Shen, Vestal; M. Riselli, Vestal; M. Timberlake, Vestal; D. Good, Vestal; Miss Noreen. Third Row: D. Battle, I. Janulis, L. Garber, J. Barron, L. Rothenberg, J. Smart, D. Kaplan, E. Harper, J. Wyman, J. Wieser, K. Phelan, D. Daley.

RUSSIAN CLUB

Rooski Kloob

RUSSIAN CLUB—First Row: M. Timberlake, Ass't. Secretary; R. Lavine, President; D. Lipscomb, Vice-President. Second Row: M. Iwasawa, Secretary; D. Perlo, G. Petrov, L. Rothenberg, Treasurer; D. Rodman, S. Whipple.

Starting with a shaving cream initiation and ending with a full course Russian dinner, the Rooski Kloob had an exciting year. With the German Club, members enjoyed a beach party. They soaked up Russian culture at movies and at a folk dance exhibition.

SENIOR FRENCH CLUB

Les Copains

In the manner of the French "joie de vivre" Les Copains introduces its members to la cultura française. Members have seen Europe through movies and slides, heard of it from various speakers, and have tasted of its cuisine at Dubarry's French Restaurant. Other highlights of 1964-1965 included the Initiation Cérémonie, the Language Club Party pour Noël, and a barbecue pour compléter le bon an!

SENIOR FRENCH CLUB—First Row: S. Dromey, E. Harper, T. McDonald, M. Bleiweis, Treasurer; M. Boundy, Secretary; L. Siever, President; M. Sullivan, Vice-President; J. Hanley, M. Mahoney, C. From the pizza party initiation and the worthwhile visit to an Italian Orphanage to Italian restaurant dining, 1965 brought cultura con peacere to the members of 11 Circulo Italiano.

Is the proposal worthwhile? To the Forum Club, concerned with clear thinking, this is a basic question. Club members participated in discussions and listened to speakers on current topics to further their understanding of public affairs. The club also sponsored civic school activities, such as Student Government and Student Exchange Days.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Fashion tips, grooming and posture hints, food preparation ideas and nutrition suggestions increased the domestic skills of the members. Representatives of cosmetic and pattern companies, food and modeling agencies, shared knowledge with novice seamstresses, models, and dieticians. In the spring, members displayed their individual sewing, designing, and modeling talents in a Fashion Show.

SCIENCE CLUB

Arthropodae, thermodynamics, and geologic formations are of prime importance to the members of the Science Club. Through projects prepared by members themselves and demonstrations presented by various speakers, members, under the direction of Mr. Clish, explore such fascinations in the many aspects of Science.

SCIENCE CLUB—First Row: R. Gates, G. Wilmarth, P. Mangano, President; E. Doctoroff, Secretary; J. Morrissey. Second Row: W. Mosteller, M. McDonald, H. Fischer, J. Morris, G. Hintlian. Absent from picture: K. Quan, Vice-President, M. Hoffman, Treasurer.

At first though enthusiasm ran high, the elements refused to cooperate with skiers. When the slopes finally were in condition late in the season, the rush to join the weekend outing to the Appalachian Mountain Club Lodge at Pinkham Notch, New Hampshire, resulted in some superb sporting for the hardy skiers.

SKI CLUB

SKI CLUB—First Row: E. Harper, J. Gibson, W. Richardson, A. Theodore, K. Ley, Secretary; R. Lavine, President; S. Goldberg, Treasurer; J. Sherman, W. Stein, R. Keller. Second Row: J. ## ARS MEDICA

Ars Medica is an organization for youth who are interested in entering a medical profession. Each month members received "Ars Medica," a newsletter published by the American Academy of General Practice. Members exchanged ideas with a medical student and viewed a film on open-heart surgery. Some seniors spent a day of preceptorship with the adviser, Dr. Eli Jacobs.

SCHOOL REPORTERS

Belmont residents obtained their main insight into high school activities through the weekly High School High Lights columns in the Belmont Citizen and Belmont Herald. To prepare complete accurate report, the columnists were constantly aware of all phases of extracurricular functions and were required to develop compact, precise journalistic writing style. "Personality spotlights" informed townspeople about the ideas and attitudes of faculty members and students at Belmont High School.

PLAY

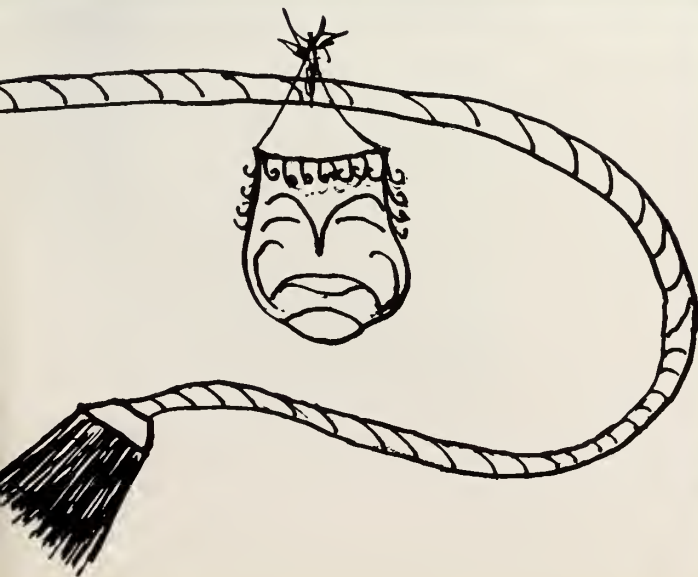

"Are my bones ready, Irma?" Bones, bells, flowers, gold bricks, and, of course, the cast, imaginary or otherwise, were all quite ready for a gay performance of farcical antics, spiced with satirical dialogue and adorned with peculiar eighteenth century attire.

Perhaps the cast did not "solve the problems of the human race"; it did, however, on December 5, 1964, after six weeks of grinding, yet often comical rehearsals, give a successful performance of The Mad Woman of Chaillot.

CLASS OF 1966—Seated: A Santoro, Secretary; Mr. Hamel, W. Skelley, President. Standing: M. Brown, Vice-President; P. Terlemezian, Treasurer.

To the class of 1966:

A year is a long time and a year is a short time. Now, your future year, seniors, seems long. Soon, you too, will be remembering language labs, biology experiments, football games, activity initiations, cheerleading practice, your senior play, a prom and graduation. As seniors you will be challenged by your studies, so seniors you will be broadened by new thoughts, ideas, and experiences.

We wish you good luck,

The Class of 1965.

"The High Point pinpoints school activities." Challenged by this motto, the '65 staff of the High Point enlarged and improved many departments. Through broader news coverage, an improved literary section, provocative editorials, an international column, the new feature articles, Potpourri and Dear Rowena, and the Mail Box, the High Point presented and reflected upon school activities and attitudes.

Financially successful, the High Point sponsored a magazine drive and a dance, Debtors' Delight.

The High Point earned a Superior Achievement Award from the Boston University Scholastic Press Association and a second place nationwide award from the Quill and Scroll, an honorary literary society.

High Point a Winner In N.E.S.P.A. Contest!

The editors of the High Point are pleased to announce that the High Point received a certificate for Superior Achievement in Scholastic Editing and Publishing. The High Point was one of the 240 papers which entered the contest at the Boston University Scholastic Press Association.

CONGRATULATIONS . . .

GOOD LUCK

With mixed feelings of sadness and happiness, Belmont observes the retirement of Mr. David C. Jacobs of the History Department, sad that the school loses such a capable and dedicated teacher and happy for Mr. Jacobs that he may now devote time to other worthwhile pursuits.

After being graduated from the University of Maine with a degree in history and government, Mr. Jacobs joined the Belmont Faculty in 1926. Mr. Jacobs furthered his education by studying law at Suffolk Law School and Northeastern University. He received a Master of Arts Degree in history from Boston University, concentrating his study on the period of the American Civil War.

In addition to his training in law and the social studies, Mr. Jacobs studied theology and has donated a great deal of his energies to his church. He is a licensed lay minister and in this capacity he will devote much of his time after retirement.

FALL WINTER SPRING SUPPLEMENT

Mrs. Shepherd

In the department of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics, we are primarily concerned with your good health, your physical fitness, and physical condition, while developing varsity teams that will be representative of the school and the town of Belmont.

Our program is designed to give as much activity to as many people as possible in the time and space allotted to us.

We are most happy when you are active and learning in your physical education classes, and when you join in the after-school program, whether it be intramural or interscholastic. We hope we have done our part to prepare you for an active, happy, healthful life.

FOOTBALL

The superb sportsmanship and honest drive of the '64 Marauders resulted in Middlesex League and State Class B Championships. Under the capable direction of Mr. Robert Whatley, new head coach, and his assistants, Messrs. Carey, Crowley, and Stone, the squad drilled and perfected teamwork.

Belmont, early in the first game, fell behind Lexington. The Marauders, facing a score of 6 to 0, returned fighting after the half and won 8 to 6.

After a few shaky moments in the home debut game against Reading, Belmont emerged with an 18 to 6 victory.

The fact that Melrose was the only team to have defeated Belmont in '63, stung its pride and fired the team to victory. A fine 48 yard pass by Bob Mara to his ace receiver, Tom Nicosia, provided the winning touchdown as Belmont defeated Melrose 14 to 6.

In a downpour, Belmont and Wakefield met on Concord Avenue field. Before Belmont settled down, Wakefield had an 8 to 0 lead. Marauder John Wisnioski caught the two point conversion after a Belmont touchdown and saved the game with a tie.

Vying with Stoneham in the final game, Belmont's victory secured the Middlesex League Championship.

On Thanksgiving Day, a classic Marauder game was fought on rain soaked Concord Avenue field before over nine thousand spectators. After a wet first period of fumbles and ineffective offense, the Marauders faced a 16 point deficit. Amid Watertown's premature victory cries, Belmont scored twelve points in muddy second period action. With unconquerable determination after the half, the Marauders added sixteen points for victory and Class B State Championship.

The Belmont Herald labeled the Marauders "The finest team in history." Belmont and Watertown American Legion Posts jointly named Gerry Gerolamo player of the day. Tom Nicosia, Andre Salipante, David Walsh, and Bob Mara earned placement on the Middlesex League All-Star team; Mike Boyle, Gerry Gerolamo and Lee Priest, the second team. The Boston Herald named David Walsh to its All Scholastic First Team.

George Crane, Steve Feeley, Dick Mahoney, Dan Mazzola, Joe Restuccia, and Joe Wilson were instrumental in successful Marauder offensive action; Louis DiPietro, Mark Donovan, Ted Lee, Billy Lund and Billy Skelley, vital in defensive moves. Mark Donovan earned the largest number of helmet stars for his excellence in defensive play.

Outstanding stars of the '64 Maroon Marauders were not individuals but teamwork, spirit, determination, and love of game and victory.

The Indoor Track team compiled a record of 4 wins and 3 losses. The squad got off to a promising start, trouncing Stoneham, then was disappointed with the 2 point loss to a strong Melrose club. Belmont trackmen bounced back defeating a scrappy Concord group. The flu forced Belmont to compete without star 1,000 yd. runner, Diego Gonzalez, and a complete relay team. The Concord meet was brightened by the performances of Bob Scarfo, Dave Symonds, Bob Ginns, Bob Hunter, Greg Wilmarth, and a second-place finish by the relay team.

Belmont rallied to defeat Reading but suffered two defeats against Wakefield and Lexington. The squad faced Middlesex leading team, Winchester, for the last meet. Only by the determination of each individual, the 15 Belmont trackmen defeated Winchester by 1 $\frac{1}{3}$  points, giving the team a winning record, ending a somewhat disappointing season on a happy note.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

Achieving the best record in sixteen years, the girls' basketball team had a tremendous season with 5 wins, 1 loss.

Captain and high-scorer Liz Ladd averaged fourteen points a game. Joan Hanley and Marnie Samuelson followed, averaging ten and eight points respectively. Guards Mary Fohlin and Gael Smith limited the opponents' baskets. Valuable assets to the team were Kathy Lee, Biffie Norris, Honora Smith, and Sarah Sumner.

GIRLS FIELD HOCKEY—First Row: J. Thompson, Manager; A. Alter, M. Boundy, Co-Captain; K. Sullivan, P. White, J. Haugh, S. Young, G. Kelly, Manager. Second Row: N. Sullivan, J. Dalton, K. Lonergan, M. Sullivan, J. Pigeon, E. Ladd, M. Winters, K. Ley, M. Morrison, M. LaBella, M. Mahoney, Miss Smith, Assistant Coach.

Captained by Maryanne Boundy and Kathy Sullivan, the Field Hockey team played a difficult and discouraging season. Goalie action was excellent, the halfbacks and fullbacks played well, but the forward line was slow. Jane Dalton was high scorer.

GYMNASTICS

Balance, strength, and agility were the individual talents developed and skillfully displayed by the young gymnastics team. Each member challenged himself with progressively more difficult stunts in seven categories: floor exercises; side horse; high bar; vaulting; parallel bars; tumbling; still rings. The ten point scoring possibility for each stunt is based fifty per cent on form, thirty per cent on continuity and twenty per cent on difficulty.

The soccer team, with a record of five-seven, barely missed the state tournament. Coached by Mr. MacBain, the team fought its way to victories over tough teams including Winchester, Medford, and Governor Dummer. With dogged determination, Goalie Steve Hoffman set a record for Belmont with three shutouts. Despite good performance from insides John Amato and Ken Rowe, the offense could not seem to click and Belmont failed to score in five games. Jon Smart, Captain, Rick Semerjian, and Rick Lieb, also turned in good performances for Belmont.

Amato looks on

Face off

The Marauder sextet, co-captained by John Amato and Jim Paulsen, compiled a three-ten-three record in Middlesex League competition and placed seventh in league standings. Coach Crowley and assistant Skip Viglirolo were forced to make this a rebuilding year.

Junior net-minder Dennis Kelliher, protected by the defensive trio of Jim Paulsen, Larry Parsons, and Dick Mazzocchi, allowed forty goals in fifteen starts.

Up front, senior lineman Amato sparked the Red and Blue offense. Heads-up play by underclassmen John Caputo, Kevin Chrusz, Bill Conley, Bruce Huntley, and Kevin Callanan balanced the Marauder attack.

An upset victory over Lexington was the most impressive Marauder win. Lexington scored early in the first period with a shot from the blue line, putting pressure on Belmont immediately. A second period goal by Chrusz tied the score. Third period goals by Chrusz and Caputo put Belmont in the win column.

The Marauder Pucksters, losing only five seniors, promise strength from experience next season.

Playing hard and fighting to the last second of every game the basketball team's season was one of spirit and suspense. Led by Captain Ken Rowe and coached by Mr. Grutchfield, the team displayed fine sportsmanship.

In the season's most exciting game, the second clash with Lexington, the Marauders were losing in the last seconds of a close game when Ken Rowe sank the victory jump shot from a distance of twenty-five feet.

High scorers for the season were Dan Sweeney, Ken Rowe, and Mike La Pierre, with totals of 197, 170, and 112 points respectively, while Ken Rowe and Bob Mara received the greatest number of defensive awards. The team finished with a six-twelve record.

SHORT PANTS KIDS

The Cross Country squad, alias the Short Pants Kids, with the able coaching of Mr. Carlton Seaman, compiled a record of five-three. Averaging fourteen members, it was one of the smallest, yet strongest teams in the school's history. Thirteen of the runners won their varsity letters.

Leading the harriers was co-captain Robert Scarfo, who now holds the record for Belmont's home course. Following closely were co-captain Daniel Kaplan, Mark Haley, Diego Gonzalez, Robert Hunter, Robert Ginns, and David Symonds.

Their efforts and achievement marked the cross-country runners as an outstanding team.

CUSTODIANS

The corridors and classrooms, with mops, tools, and dust brooms, are polished and kept groomed by our able staff of custodians. Reliable and pleasant, they handle every mishap from flooded hallways to defective light bulbs and graciously assist students and teachers.

CUSTODIANS—Jim Kiley and Jack Ladd.

"The paint is still wet on the wall."

COOKS

Behind the scenes in the cafeteria, our cooks efficiently prepare over five hundred hot lunches daily. The cooks follow the rigid standards of the state government to provide appreciative students and faculty with healthful, well-balanced meals.

THE CLASS SONG

For the last time gathered singing
Class of Sixty Five,
Though for freedom now we're yearning
Memory will survive.
In our hearts the empty feeling
Little known before
Is the part of self we're leaving,
Belmont at your door
Belmont High School — what you've given
Cannot be repaid,
We before you boldly singing
Are the youth you've trained
Friends we've loved and skilful teaching
Will our years sustain;
Thus, a part of gain in Belmont
Always will remain
So rejoice with us in music
For our hope is strong;
See the torches brightly lighted
Quickened in the throng
With the flames of knowledge burning
We will ever thrive,
Bringing praise to Belmont High School
Class of Sixty Five

Deirdre Good

Spring at Belmont High School saw us hectic and alert.
Saw the Class of '65 in our final high school spurt.

Of course we groaned when dear teachers of French and chem. and psyche,
Kept piling on the homework, projects, papers, and the like.

A cast of drama workers rehearsed hours every day
To perfect the play "J.B." for the twenty-first of May.

BASEBALL—Front Row: Coach Morgan, G. Gerolamo, K. Rowe, J. Amato, G. Gerolamo (Capt.), K. Thomas, R. Mara, T. Nicosia, Back Row: E. Lee, D. Sweeney, J. Restuccia, J. Ulio, K. Norton, R. Mahony, H. Wight.

Baseball boys won eight, lost seven, captained by Gerolamo;
Trackmen under Diego and Bob had a record three-five to show!

TRACK—First Row: J. McNeill, R. Sakakeeny, P. Winters, R. Fraiman, P. Forte, R. Jacobs, R. Prescott, C. Reagen, W. Lund, Second Row: J. Wisnioski, P. Magrath, R. Hunter, A. Salipante, A. Two points for our coach.

All right! Who took my whistle?

Push down on Paulsen some more Jay.

FACULTY-STUDENT BASKETBALL GAME

Our Cheerleaders were inspiring.

Here is how we used to do it.

You faked him. Willy.

Two minutes for a leg check, Mr. Crowley.

Cheerful cheerleaders.

Give him the hip, Mr. Brown.

Oh! If he makes it we will be one point behind.

Come on girls, back to our seats.

Come on boys, show them we are stronger than they are.

Blow your whistle, he is going too fast.

. . . and when we get out pressbox . . .

BOOSTERS CLUB BANQUET

Here come the "B" jackets.

Just don't drop it, Mr. Cowing.

Now bite down hard, Liz.

You will be Class B champs next year too, Coach.

Yes, that's the one.

As I was saying . . .

Where did you get your coat?

It's a pair of earmuffs, Coach.

Thanks, Fred.

Hold that note, girls.

You are not supposed to look through it, Pauline.

Flowers, music, favors, ducks: the committee went to each extreme To carry out and emphasize the Prom "Moonlight and Roses" theme.

Presidential Scholar—Larry Siever, center.
National Merit Scholars—Richard Lavine, Mariko Iwasawa, Larry Siever.

Senior Awards Assembly: Honors were announced
by Marnie, the caller,
Most impressive, Larry Siever is a Presidential Scholar.

Senior Banquet Festivities rendered gifts, prizes and a show,
And Mr. Sullivan's "almost speechless" ness and his balogna crow.

At graduation ceremonies, Marion and Larry spoke before a crowd,

We marched to "Pomp and Circumstance," happy, sad, and proud.

And after the Party, Discotheque, which lasted until two,
We left, the Class of '65, to Belmont High,
we thank you.
